New Law Spurs Annexation Moves

Christen Plan Affected

By RON BATES

A RECENT law creating county commissions to handle all annexations, incorporations and single purpose districts is having sharp reverberations both locally and throughout the state.

Locally, the law has had a direct effect in speeding up the annexation of the Christen ranch by Daly City and the uninhabited portion of Westborough by South San Francisco.

On the same night the two cities began annexation proceedings, the city of San Jose took steps to annex approximately 16,000 acres, making it the third largest city in area in the state.

And throughout California, more than two dozen cities have announced intentions to incorporate, apparently to beat the September 20 deadline.

The law will, in effect, give the new commission life or death power over all moves to change or create a city's boundaries.

Some officials, fearful of losing their bargaining powers with developers once the commission begins operation, have speeded up plans that originally were to be extended over a number of years.

"This is definitely not the case in the Christen ranch," Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci said at a recent Lion's club meeting. "The plans that have been presented to us are very complete and show a lot of work."

The Daly City council was rebuffed on the attempted annexation of Westborough in 1960 and had been hesitant to move too fast on the Christen lands.

The councilmen had adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude and wanted a proposed land use map before taking any annexation steps.

The Suburban Realty company, composed of the Crocker Land company and Standard Builders, hired planners, economists and engineers to develop a plan.

THE NEW COUNTY commission will be composed of two county supervisors, two mayors and a fifth person—a layman—to be chosen by the four public officials.

The commission will review and either approve or disapprove with or without amendment, wholly, partially or conditionally any annexation, incorporation or formation of districts.

In its action the commission must consider such factors as population density, assessed valuation, natural boundaries, drainage basins and cost of services. It must also consider the effect of the proposed annexation on the adjacent area.

Under such criteria, for example, the commission would have probably rejected Daly City's attempted annexation of Westborough in 1960 and the recently completed Bayshore annexation because of the distances to provide services.

The new law not only takes the question of annexation out of hands of the local councils but also out of the hands of residents.

If the property is more compatible with another city, the commission could not approve a requested annexation.

This is another factor, according to Verducci, that is urging Daly City to move.

"We feel we know more about the Christen annexation than would a board of five people who aren't affected," he said. "And we're more concerned about it than they would be."

On the other hand, no change is made in the present annexation laws to take away the right of either the owners of a majority of the assessed value of the property or the voters to stop an annexation.

Litigation over an attempted annexation could be tied up in the courts for several years because the law is new and the powers of the commission are not yet clearly defined.

THE COMMISSION will become a new county agency after September 20 and must begin operation within 60 days.

The San Mateo County Council of Mayors will meet September 27 to elect two of its members to serve on the commission.

Verducci, president of the county council, pointed out at the last meting of the mayors that the new commission will undoubtedly become "one of the most powerful" entities in the county.

San Mateo county is the eighth richest county in the nation and undeveloped land, particularly in the north county, is at a premium.

"You can imagine the pressure that will be exerted on this commission," Verducci told the mayors.

If an annexation affects the city of a member of the commission, he must step down and let an alternate member take his seat.

One of the biggest plums that the commission will rule on is the huge Crocker estates to the east of Daly City.

With the annexation of Bayshore, the Crocker lands are surrounded on three sides by Daly City, putting the city in a favorable position for annexation.

However, the biggest prize of all is the Crocker Industrial Park, which at its completion will contain 75 industrial firms.

Daly City, looking through its bedroom windows, is casting an eager eye toward the properties but will have to vie with South San Francisco and Brisbane.

No. County Schools Expect 15,500 Pupils Back Tuesday

Cabrillo to Welcome Its First Pupils

The ten schools in the Laguna Salada Union school district will open their doors to more than 7000 students Tuesday.

Included on the roster of schools is the new all-brick Cabrillo school on Crespi drive in Linda Mar, a building that represents a departure from the indoor-outdoor all-glass type of school that has been popular for the past several years.

Cabrillo will enroll 648 students and will have two special education classes. Principal will be Paul Eckels, formerly a curriculum consultant in the district.

The school was badly damaged by vandals during the summer and at the time, officials doubted that repairs could be made in time for the opening of school.

The vandals smeared asphalt linoleum adhesive throughout three classrooms.

However, the damage has been repaired and the school will open in its entirety Tuesday.

Elsewhere in the district, double sessions will be in effect at Westview and Pacific Heights schools for about a month until additions to these schools, now under construction, are completed.

More than 240 teachers and administrators are associated with Laguna Salada this fall and of this total, 60 teachers will be new to the district.

Throughout the remainder of this week, the orientation will include school staff meetings and the preparation of rooms, equipment and supplies for the opening of school.

Cafeterias in the district will begin a hot lunch program next Wednesday.

Two New Buildings, and New Jeff High to Open

More than 15,500 students in four school districts serving the North county will stream back to school Tuesday, ending a summer-long vacation from formal education.

The biggest percentage of this total will be represented by students in the Jefferson Elementary school district.

Other Stories, Page 5)

Officials of the district anticipate that enrollment will hit 9,300 this year.

In the Jefferson High school district, more than 5,600 pupils are expected to register in four schools.

The Laguna Salada school district expects to welcome 7,000 elementary school children and Bayshore school district officials anticipate that more than 700 will be at their desks when classes begin.

Parochial schools serving the North county got a week's head start. They began classes yesterday.

To accommodate rising enrollments, two new schools will open their doors for the first time this fall, an old school has been completely rebuilt and two others are being expanded and will be ready shortly after school starts.

The new schools are Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the Jefferson Elementary district and Cabrillo in the Laguna system.

The old school with a new face is Jefferson High school. The old building has been demolished and a bright, new structure has taken its place.

The additions are being made to Pacific Heights and Westview schools in the Laguna district and officials say these schools will be on double sessions until the additions are completed.

On hand to greet the returning students will be nearly 1,000

Pacifica Will Tackle Three Tough Issues

In a special study session Tuesday, the Pacifica City council will tackle three of its thorniest issues: drainage, creation of a police fire, disaster commission and traffic controls on Alicante drive.

The Council tossed the problems to special citizens study committees several months ago and now has their recommendations to act upon.

It is expected the council will have little difficulty in deciding upon the recommendation by a citizens group to dump the idea

A New Face To Be Seen On Mission

Biggest change to be seen in the Jefferson Union High school district with the opening of school Tuesday will be the new look Jefferson High school, the district's oldest school, has gained since the summer vacation started in June.

The old building has been torn down and motorists on Mission street now can see a new classroom building to the rear of the old site.

A decision to rebuild the school was made after the old building was damaged by the March 22, 1957, earthquake and a study was made of the soundness of the structure.

After more studies by architects, the district decided it would be the most economical to build a new classroom structure and remodel some of the shops and the gymnasium.

Money for the project was made available by the state and the work began in the spring of last year.

The "new" Jefferson is expected to enroll 1650 students this fall, compared to 1570 last year. The 1963 total is about all the school can handle.

In the other schools in the dis-

Roosevelt Elementary Will Begin

The opening of school Tuesday in the Jefferson Elementary district will be highlighted by the first classes to be held in the district's new Franklin Delano Roosevelt school, located in the northwest corner of Pacifica near the Westlake Terrace subdivision.

The $600,126 building is the first in the district to be erected west of Skyline boulevard. It will serve about 1200 families or 300 children.

Ultimately, it will have 19 classrooms, a multi-use room, kitchen, administrative offices, library, remedial room and two kindergartens.

Fred Schwuickhardt will serve as principal of both the new school and Jeferson Elementary school.

Merced Golf Club Denies Acreage Sale

The rumors, the assertions and the denials swirled around and over the Lake Merced Golf and Country club last week over the sale of 86 acres of club land but when the air cleared, no one in authority was willing to confirm anything.

One report said eastern interests had offered $21.5-million for the acreage. This would give club members and their heirs a guaranteed income of $500 a month for 99 years.

The eastern combine, so the report went, would build apart-

FREEWAY REPORT:

Pacificans Take Tieups in Stride

Pacifica, now undergoing radical surgery with construction of the Cabrillo coastal freeway changing the face of the city from north to south, seems to be bearing up well.

Both Mayor Harold Feyge and state highway project engineer, Dino Cassinelli, said last week residents seem to be accepting philosophically the inconvenience of frequent traffic tie-ups.

Cassinelli said the Cabrillo highway is especially difficult since it carries heavy traffic loads and is the only route available for commuters.

"The main thing is to get traffic re-routed off the present highway as much as possible so that they can start building the freeway," Cassinelli explained.

Therefore, the contractor will concentrate first on building frontage roads, the engineer pointed out.

Feyge said he believed people were generally happy to see "action busting out all over" and that they were conditioning themselves to the inconveniences.

"Nobody except the police charges up and down the highway more than I do," Feyge commented. "I don't think the delays have been too bad."

This week, Cassinelli said the contractor would be moving 200,000 yards of dirt from the hill just north of the Sharp Park road and hauling it south to the marsh area near Reina del Mar.

A small detour has been constructed through the cut just north of Reina del Mar and a

Unit Accepts GED Results

A recommendation to accept job applicants who have completed General Education Development tests was approved at a special meeting of the Daly City Personnel board last week.

The GED certificates, however, must be accompanied by a sponsoring high school diploma or 30 units of college credit.

The tests are recognized by some high schools as completion of the twelfth grade. A person passing the tests is considered as having the educational development of a high school graduate.

The board considered two appeals of applicants who had previously been rejected. One of the applicants met the new qualifications.

Seven new job applicants falling under the ruling also were considered.

HUGE SHOPPING CENTER—Here is an architect's drawing of a mammoth shopping center planned as part of the development of the former Christen ranch. The center would be built near the junction of the planned Junipero Serra and Cabrillo Freeways. High rise apartments also planned for the area are seen in background. The center would feature an air conditioned concourse. Developers of the Christen property have petitioned to annex the land to Daly City. A hearing will be held October 14.

Road Work Start Set

Work will begin next week on repair of the old coast road connecting Westlake Terrace and Pacifica's Pacific Manor Shopping center.

Last week, Pacifica City council awarded a $30,650 contract for the work to the A. C. Mullens company of Belmont — with the provision that the work be completed within 30 days.

Pacifica City engineer Al Roberts said this week that in a speed-up operation, drainage construction by the Doelger corporation would be accomplished simultaneously with the grading by the Mullens firm.

With paving work to be done by city crews immediately thereafter, Roberts said the city hopes to have the road in use by the middle of October.

A large section of the old road collapsed during the October 1962 heavy storm and flood. Federal government disaster relief funds are being used by the city

Red Tape Snarls Rubble Project

By LOIS McNALLY

A small band of 11 Pacifica property owners who hoped to get rubble from the coast freeway construction project to shore up their eroding ocean shoreline backyards are finding the project is a lot more complicated than they first thought.

Max Link, spokesman for property owners along the Esplanade, said this week: "I guess it's a long, slow process when you get involved with government agencies and red tape and all that."

First, the Esplanade residents learned that the cost of removing and dumping the rubble down the 60-foot cliffs behind their homes might be a lot more expensive than they thought—with estimates ranging up to $20,000.

Link said he understood there would be a problem getting truckloads into the backyards of the homes and that there would have to be a caterpillar tractor on the beach below.

Then they were told that whatever was done should conform to what is being recommended by the U. S. Corps of Engineers in a pending study of the city's entire shoreline erosion problem.

This study, for which $54,000 was appropriated last June by congress, has been due to start all summer.

(Mayor Harold Feyge said he has been told that the next step is for a public hearing on the study project to be held in Pacifica by the engineers. He said he is pressing for early action.)

Link said that he and his neighbors are consulting a Santa Cruz private engineering firm, Bowman and Williams, for a professional opinion on whether it would be worthwhile to try to use the rubble for a temporary protection against erosion.

Link explained that some of the Esplanade homes are in immediate danger and that the erosion comes within nine feet of at least one home. He said that property owners have lost 60 to 70 feet over the past 11 years.

In the meantime, the contractor for the freeway has warned the Esplanade residents that if they want the rubble, there can be no delay in removing it that would hamper progress of the freeway.

Pacifica Will Tackle Three Tough Issues

of forming a police, fire and disaster commission.

Observers feel that councilmen will accept the committee's conclusion that such a commission would not be helpful to the city and might injure department morale.

Less easily resolved is the drainage committee report, which calls for a $1,990,000 bond issue to finance an immediate program of major drainage construction and a slowdown on new building.

Also, the safety committee's recommendation of new safety devices for Alicante drive, a report which immediately drew fire from residents of neighboring Alvarado, Duran and Desvio courts, leaves councilmen not much better off than they were before they referred the matter to the committee for study.

The safety committee's report presents the council with seven recommendations for slowing traffic on the busy, winding and steep residential street. Public attention was called to the problem when a small boy recently was injured on his front lawn by a speeding auto that had careened out of control.

However, 51 residents of the streets branching off Alicante strongly objected to two of the seven recommendations: that the stop sign at Alvarado and Alicante be changed to make the stop at Alvarado as it enters Alicante and also that the white line on Alicante be removed.

The drainage study committee is asking for a nearly $2-million general government obligation bond to finance major drainage projects in watershed areas, principally along Pedro, Milagra and Calera creeks, and for lesser projects in improved areas where present drainage facilities are inadequate.

The sum of $1,690,000 would be spent on immediately needed projects and $300,000 kept in a reserve fund for periodic work on exisitin or obsolete drainage facilities.

Asking for a slowdown on new building, the committee asks that its effect on city-wide mainstream problems first be solved.

Concern is expressed by the committee with "the problem of continued large scale development in upstream areas tributary to presently deficient major drainage facilities."

Committee members urge that the recommended program of major drainage improvement be undertaken immediately or else a moratorium on development be declared.

The committee report recommends underground culverts be constructed on the "Big Inch" at Edgemar and Milagra creek in Pacific Manor and a pumping station be built at Brighton and Lakeside in Sharp Park.

Underground culverts are recommended for Reina del Mar in Vallemar; and on Calera creek from Verona avenue to Berendos, Amapola to the end, Juanita to Angelita and Ursula; and on Hewit avenue in Rockaway Beach.

Projects recommended for Pedro Point include underground culverts on Chester way from Pedro creek to San Pedro avenue, San Pedro avenue to Chester way to Kent road, Grand avenue from San Pedro avenue to Athenian way and interceptors on Olympian, Sterling and Stanley avenues.

On Pedro creek in Linda Mar, new culverts are recommended under Adobe drive and Peralta, and a concrete-lined channel from the beach to Peralta.

The rest of Pedro creek should be lined with riprap for erosion control, cleaned, graded and realigned, the committee says.

Hearings on Two Small Annexations Scheduled

A public hearing on the annexation of one city block and portions of two others is scheduled for Tuesday by the Daly City council.

The annexation has been designated the Pedemonte annexation, named after Gus Pedemonte, one of theo wners of the Cypress Hills Golf course and a major property owner in the are.

The area to be annexed includes the Broadmoor Police station and the Broadmoor Presbyterian church. Other property owners include the Callen and Lagomarsino building developers.

Pedemonte plans to build apartment houses on property he owns on 87th, 88th and 89th streets and has requested that multiple dwelling zoning be established in the area.

A public hearing on the zoning application has been set for September 23.

At a planning commission meeting August 13, three Broadmoor residents protested the zoning. They were Thomas Callan Sr., C. W. Smith and Russell Parkinson.

They argued that the area was residential in nature and that apartment houses would create problems of drainage and excessive parking.

Selmi Leaves Pacifica Post

Richard Selmi, missing from Pacifica Planning commission meetings during the past month, last week submitted his resignation from the commission to the city council.

Selmi, a commissioner for the past three years, said he had to resign because business reasons made it impossible for him to attend the commission meetings regularly.

Commission chairman James Fox recently reported that he had been unable to locate Selmi or contact him to learn the reason for his absences.

Fox said there was no regulation limiting the number of meetings a commissioner can miss. However, he observed that commissioners usually leave word when they do not plan to be present.

Fox had asked Pacifica City councilmen to discuss the matter with him in a closed personnel session, but said he was informed just prior to the meeting it would not be necessary for him to attend.

Mayor Harold Feyge said later the council decided not to discuss the matter.

Old Dobbin Must Have One Acre

To house a horse in Pacifica, you must now have at least an acre of land, according to a new ordinance passed by the city council last week.

The new rules, which regular all stabling and maintenance of horses within the city limits, require a yearly permit: $5 for the first two horses and $2 each for each additional horse.

The minimum lot area upon which any horse may be kept is one acre, but two horses may be kept on such a parcel.

The stable has to be 100 feet from neighboring houses, 40 feet problems of drainage and excessive parking. from the property line, and 40 feet rom the owner's residence.

ment houses and a shopping center on the land.

However, James Frank, president of the club, flatly denied that an offer had been received for any of the club's land.

He declared the rumors were unfactual, incorrect and misleading.

And he added that the only land the club is negotiating over comprises 11 acres along the route of the new Junipero Serra freeway, now under construction.

According to some reports, the state has offered the club $2-million for the 11 acres. The club, according to the same reports, is holding out for $2.5-million.

Included in the 11 acres are the tenth fairway and a clubhouse.

A spokesman for the division of highways said it would be several months before the state begins bulldozing the 11 acres and that the clubhouse would not be taken over until September of next year.

The club has 300 members. It owns a total of 160 acres southwest of the intersection of Alemany and Junipero Serra boulevards.

LETTER TO FIREMEN

'Correspondent' On Right Track

WESTLAKE POST GLORIA —The Daly City Fire department has a correspondent of sorts it feels is on the right track as far as playing with matches is concerned.

The department received this letter the other day from the correspondent, nine-year-old Sandra Hansen of 33 Monterey drive:

Dear Fire Department:

Please accept this poem about four matches. This is dedicated to the Fire department. I've had my poem in mind ever since I saw you put out the fire on my block. I am amazed at the quick action of the firemen. Please accept my poem I ask again.

Matches Complaining Song
By Sandra Hansen

We are matches four of us,
John, James, Frank and Gus.
Firemen are not our friends,
They really cause
manslaughter.
Manslaughter? Yes, they put us out,
Kill us with ice cold water.

Little tots play with us,
Of other toys they tire.
So we, John, James, Frank and Gus
Soon start a fire.
Ding! Ding! Ding!
Waters so high it's like rain.
Poor John, James, Frank and

DEATHS

William Duggan, Funeral Director, Is Dead at 87

Funeral services were held Friday for William Duggan, founder of Duggan's Funeral Service in San Francisco and the father of Edwin J. Duggan, owner of Duggan's Serra Mortuary in Daly City and now president of the San Francisco company.

The father died August 26 in a convalescent home. He was 87 and had been in failing health for a year and a half.

Duggan became famous in dog racing circles as the owner of one of the greatest winners in dog racing history, Up Cork.

He raced Up Cork at such tracks as Union Corsing Park in Colma, the old Ingleside Park in San Francisco and Hawthorne Park in Chicago. He once was offered $10,000 for the dog.

Rival kennels at that time included the M & D Kennel, owned by Malcome Dennis, father of Edward Dennis, Daly City councilman.

In his youth, Duggan won the Pacific Coast handball championship at the Panama Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915 and was an amateur boxer for the Olympic club.

It was later that he imported greyhounds from Ireland, bred them both on land he rented and on his own ranch in Sonoma.

Born in Gurteen, County Tipperary, Ireland, Duggan left his homeland when he was 14 and journeyed to New York City. In 1898, he enlisted in the Army for service in the Spanish-American War.

After leaving the Army, he came to San Francisco.

His late wife, Henrietta, was one of the first women physicians in San Francisco.

He was a member of the Nelson A. Miles Camp 10, United Spanish War Veterans, the Holy Name society of Mission Dolores Basilica, Ancient Order of Hibernians and the San Francisco and California Funeral Directors association.

In addition to his son, Edwin, survivors also include three other sons, Dr. William T. Duggan, Dr. Richard J. Duggan and Leonard Duggan; a daughter, Mrs. Letitia Welch, all of San Francisco; 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from Duggan's Funeral chapel in San Francisco. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

LUDIE GARRETT

Mrs. Ludie Garrett, 76, a former resident of 275 Los Olivas avenue, Daly City, died at Millbrae Serra sanitarium after an illness of five years.

There are no known survivors.

Funeral services were held from Chapel of the Highlands in Millbrae. Interment was at Woodlawn Memorial park, Colma.

JOSEPH LA MANCUSA

Funeral services were held last week for Joseph la Mancusa, 875 Standish road, Pacifica, by the N. Gray and company chapel.

A native of Sicily, he lived in California for the past 53 years. He was a veteran of World War I and an original member of the 91st Infantry division, made up of San Francisco area residents.

He was retired from civil service.

Survivors include his wife Catherine la Mancusa; a son, Dr. Joseph la Mancusa Jr.; and a daughter, Katherine Coop, an instructor at San Francisco State college.

A requiem mass was held at St Peter's Catholic church.

AUTOS DAMAGED

Gateway Chevrolet company at 7400 Mission street, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that vandals had damaged two cars on a company lot.

Recognition from the GOP

BECHTOLD HONORED—Amos Bechtold, left, of 716 Maddox drive, Colma, retiring chairman of the San Mateo County Republican Central committee, was honored at a dinner at the Red Lion Inn in Hillsdale. His successor is James W. Halley of San Mateo. Attending the event were Caspar W. Weinberger, second from left, GOP state chairman who lives in Hillsborough and Congressman J. Arthur Younger, second from right, who delivered the principal address.

Amos Bechtold Honored at GOP Testimonial Dinner

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has charged that the United States government is being managed by five liberal brain-trusters of the New Frontier administration, namely Bobby Kennedy, Pierre Salinger, Arthur Schlesinger, Ted Sorenson and Walter Heller.

Younger, speaking before an overflow audience at the Red Lion Inn in Hillsdale, paid high tribute to retiring Republican Central committee Chairman Amos Bechtold, of 716 Maddox drive, Colma, and lauded James W. Halley, his successor.

"I am gratified that San Mateo county has a unified and united Republican party that will again go forward to victory in 1964," Younger declared.

Younger said that in his opinion the present administration is leading the nation toward a complete government control of business and the lives of the people.

He ridiculed the adminisration's "planned deficit" which, he said, their economists attempt to contrast with a natural deficit.

"In my estimation, the important thing is to get the government back on a sound fiscal basis and there should be some planning in this direction if this nation is to be mainained as a free enterprise counry," Younger asserted.

Henry J. Bostwick Jr., presided and Mrs. Merritt R. Hosmer introduced Younger. Former Assemblyman Louis Francis presented a gift to Bechtold on behalf of the Republican party and Halley set forth a program of action for the party in 1964.

Woman Hurt In Collision

One person was injured in a two-car collision at Skyline drive and Westmoor avenue in Daly City about 9:30 last Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Jacqueline B. Brown, 36, of 70 Carmel avenue, Daly City, one of the drivers, was treated for cuts and bruises at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco.

Police identified the driver of the other auto as Alfonso Starkes, 18, of 126 Eldorado street, San Mateo.

Route 229 Proposals on View Tomorrow at Oceana

Three proposed routes for the western end of State Highway 229, linking Cabrillo coastal freeway with the Bayshore freeway, will be on view tomorrow from 2 to 9 p.m. in the multi-purpose room at Oceana High school.

The display of maps and detailed information is in advance of a public hearing scheduled by the State Highway commission for Wednesday, September 18, at 2 p.m. in the auditorium at Oceana.

Pacifica City Council has decided to withhold further study on the matter until after the September 18 public hearing.

All three routes start near the San Francisco county jail. The "N" route cuts north, then loops back through the rifle range area west of the golf course and then west to connect with the Coast highway at a point near Mori's Point road.

The "I" route swings almost due west, cross the highway south of Mori's Point and loops back to join the Coast highway near Hewitt a

The "R" route travels south, turning west behind Rockaway and paralleling Fassler drive and joins the highway near Sea Bowl drive.

Employes to Be Rewarded

Pacifica's personnel board last week approved and passed back to the City Council a proposal to periodically reward outstanding city employes.

The idea was originally suggested by city manager Karl Baldwin as a way of boosting morale. The council referred the proposal to the Personnel Board for study and asked for a recommendation.

Selected twice yearly, employes would receive a $50 U. S. Defense bond and a plaque from the council for outstanding on-the-job performance, improvement of department operations and economy, and off-the-job contributions to community activities.

A special award for acts of service above and beyond the call of duty also would be given.

By LE PACINI

AS THIS is written, eight teams in the National league are playing better than .500 baseball.

This is not indicative of a close race or a strong league.

It means simply that Houston and New York, the two teams playing in the .300 category, don't belong in the league.

This also goes for Washington, the .300 patsy in the American league.

Take a few pitchers away from Houston and Washington and they'd have trouble winning in the Coast league. Let the Mets keep their pitching staff and they'd still have trouble winning in the Coast league.

With Houston and New York in the league, the National league, in effect, is an eight-team league.

You may be asking yourself why the majors went to the trouble of expanding to two 10-league teams when they're playing eight-team leagues anyway.

The answer to that question is obvious. Money. We have no objection to owners making money, because neither baseball nor any professional sport could exist unless some were making profits.

What we object to is that the fan is being duped into thinking he is seeing major league baseball when the Colts and Mets come to town. He isn't.

When the majors expanded they tampered with a somehow magic formula that dictated that 16 teams consisting of 25 players each would provide baseball fans with major league caliber players. The magic formula was simple and proven. There are in each generation, so stated the equation, 400 major league baseball players in the world. Not 500.

Those extra 100 "major" league players, all for the sake of a few extra bucks which will cease coming in when fans realize that the Mets aren't cute, have unbalanced and diluted major league baseball.

Expansion weakened every bench in baseball, with the exception of that one belonging to the Yankees—naturally. Perhaps of all the others, the Dodgers suffered least. But they certainly weren't helped by expansion.

There are some players who make wonderful substitutes but poor regulars. These are the ones who went to New York, Houston, Washington and Los Angeles (the only expansion team which has remained at least respectable). These and all the teen-agers who should still be learning their trade in the minors for the next few years.

The so-called forced-feeding of these youngsters may not only shatter the confidence of some future potential greats but may run razor companies out of business for lack of athletes capable of shaving, and could cause new formats for hair oil companies—that will have to picture the stars using that greasy kid stuff.

AREN'T the Yankees lucky? They're always the ones who suffer least. Actually, they usually take advantage of so-called disadvantages.

People always want to "break them up." And they are always coming up with wonderfully clever schemes to undermine the Yankees.

Like the bonus player rule that says that a team may have two bonus players on its roster, one of whom must be farmed out (but counted against the team's roster) while the other is kept on the big team's bench.

We suppose the theory here was that the rich Yankees, who like those quickie pennants, would stop signing bonus boys so as to keep their famed bench unclogged, and allow others to stockpile young talent.

What the smart guys evidently overlooked, however, is that the Yankees were never any competition for them, anyway; not as far as large bonuses are concerned.

There's hardly a bonus baby — at least not in the huge sum category — on the squad.

So the Yanks merely kept their full 25-man complement—a complement of young men, ironically while all the others weakened themselves even more with the handicap of having to play with virtually 22-24 man squads—loaded with teen-agers they thought they had shrewdly "stolen" from the Yankees.

What it all boils down to is that the other 19 club owners in baseball should concentrate on what they can do to help themselves—not on what they can do to destroy the Yankees.

They're going to have to get better than the Yankees, not hope that the Yankees get worse than them.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS and gratitude to Art Johnson, the new 49er public relations man who obviously knows a crack columnist when he sees one.

We've just received our 49er press, radio and TV guide, and within only two days after having requested it.

It may be remembered that last year we were not only asked to pay 50 cents for the thing, but didn't receive it until three phone calls and half a season later.

If Art's hustle, determination and keen eye for talent are representative of a new 49er attitude, they could go undefeated this year.

Daly City's Jim Fair Wins State Junior Golf Crown

Daly City's Jim Fair brought the State Junior Golf championship to the North county last week.

He carded a nifty four-round, four-over-par total of 293 to win the coveted title at the Merced Golf and Country club in Merced.

Fair won the tournament by for strokes over Jerry Heard of Visalia, who had blistered the 6340 yard course on the final round with a five-under-par 67.

Heard had been considered out of the running after scoring an 80 and a 78 in the second day's double round.

Fair shared the lead after the second day with Gregg McHatton of Whittier. Each held a two-stroke lead over the field with 219 totals.

McHatton faded on the last round and finished up tied for fourth with Dennis Noren of Whittier at 300.

After an opening day round of 73, Fair faltered and came in with a 76 on the second round, then stormed back into the running with a fancy two-under-par on his third round.

He won the tourney by tallying a two-over-par 74 on the final round.

In winning, Fair, a Westmoor High school student, added another prize to a growing collection of trophies.

In July, he and his father, George, stroked their way to a 1-up victory in the 13th annual Roos-Atkins Father and Son Golf championship at Golden Gate park in San Francisco.

Last month, the youth advanced to the second round of the National Junior Golf championships in Florence, S. C. before bowing in a marathon 22-hole match.

By competing in the finals, he earned a 60th place ranking among national golfers.

The Cow Palace Is Ours

The Cow Palace, a title that has caused much past debate, is exclusively the Bay Area's.

The big barn, now in Daly City through annexation, has exclusive right to the name effective August 13 of this year.

Attorney General Stanley Mosk submitted an oval design enclosing the words, "Cow Palace" to the U. S. Patent office at the request of the board of directors of the Agricultural association district 1-A.

The patent office approved the design and gave the local fieldhouse exclusive use of the name.

The action had been requested because, the directors said, livestock pavilions in the east had been adopting the name for their own use, capitalizing on the fame of the local Cow Palace.

18-HOLE COURSE

Cypress Hills Gains 9 Greens

The Cypress Hills golf course, in the junior league with its present nine greens, will make the big jump into the major leagues soon with the completion of nine more greens—giving the course a full-fledged 18 holes.

Seeded in early April, the new greens are being tended and are now playable, according to course officials.

The fairways, seeded later, are expected to be ready for play early this fal.

Golf pro Bob Silvestri is personally supervising the maintenance program.

The course will feature a par five 11th hole with four sets of trees facing the fairway.

One set will face a 1½-million gallon lake and will act as a barrier to prevailing westerly winds.

Course architect Jack Fleming calls this fairway and its green one of his best.

In addition to the new nine holes, another nine greens are being planned.

Cypress Hills ultimately will have a course of 18 holes of championship caliber and an additional nine-hole course.

In connection with the new greens now being completed, Cypress Hills also is expanding its clubhouse facilities. A banquet room is planned to accommodate 800 diners.

The owners, Gus Pedemonte, Roy Franzoia and James Bonacorsi, said the course and its facilities will be able to accommodate some of the largest tournaments held on the golf circuit.

The annual fall touch football league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department for boys in grades 5-8, will begin play September 21.

Basketball Tournament Ends Season

The high school summer basketball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department climaxed its season last Thursday with an All Star extravaganza at the War Memorial Community center.

Championship teams from each division both emerged victorious as they downed All Star teams selected from the other clubs in their divisions.

In the short division game, the champion Knights downed the All Stars, 43-29, while the Clippers won their tussle, 82-51, in the Long division tilt.

In the first game, Tom Pritchard and Dan Caferetta led the Knights to victory, both in scoring and rebounding.

Pritchard led the game's scorers with 13 points and Caferetta was right behind with 12.

THE MERMAIDS swam their way to a real tense finish last week. The last day of league play showed D & J Music & Vending winning the league, but second place ended in a tie between Linda Mar Cleaners and Kelleven Shepherd's, which brought the two teams back the next day for a play off.

The pressure was really on as action went to the seventh frame of the third game before Linda Mar Cleaners gained on Kelleven Shepherd's to win the second place trophies.

Winner of the first place team—Robbie Ash, Loretta McCurdy and Delores Logan. Second place team—Nancy Bodegraven, Eleanor Payne and Sonja Shore. Third place team—(They fought so hard) — Barbara Schuder, Rita Butler and Jackie Jodsaas.

Jeff Adult Evening School Begins 40th Year

Two Pacifica Schools Set Two Sessions

Eighteen classrooms in Pacific Heights and Westview schools will have to be placed on double sessions when schools open for the fall ter on September 10, trustees of the Laguna Salada elementary school district in Pacifica were informed last week.

Double sessions will last only about a month, however, until new additions at the two schools are completed.

Both were delayed because original construction bids had to be rejected as being too high and construction was delayed for a month when new bids were asked.

Sixth, third, fourth and fifth grade classes at Pacific Heights will go onto double sessions. Each will lose about 20 minutes of instruction time per day for about a month.

Twelve fourth to eighth grade classes at Westview school will also be placed on double sessions.

Grades from four to six will lose about 20 minutes of instructional time per day, while the upper grades will lose about 40 minutes per day.

All classes will receive the minimum time of instruction required by the state, however. Superintendent Frederick E. Lucas reported.

The recommendation for the temporary double sessions came from a study committee of administrators and parents.

Lucas reported all administrators reported back for duty last Monday, and teachers are scheduled to report next Tuesday.

Lucas said plans are now being worked out with the Pacifica police department to get children living in the eastern part of Sharp Park across the Cabrillo highway construction project to the Sharp Park school.

Trustees, after inspecting the new Cabrillo school Monday agreed it will be ready in time for the beginning of the new term.

Lucas reported an addition to administrative offices and a new instructional materials center should be ready in October.

The board agreed to hold a special meeting September 3 to consider a teachers' request for 4 per cent salary increases, to examine plans for the new Fairmont school and to accept Cabrillo school.

Trustees authorized a contract with the California Co-operative Personnel Services division of the state to make a study of pay scales and fringe benefits to non-teaching personnel.

THESE PARTICIPANTS in the adult evening school of the Jefferson Union High School district are engaged in the study of electronics. Classes in beginning and intermediate electronics will be taught Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

More Than 125 Classes Taught in Ten Fields

With registration for the fall semester scheduled September 10-20, the Adult Evening school of the Jefferson Union High school district will celebrate its fortieth anniversary.

Classes began in 1923 on a limited basis. The district now has more than 125 classes in 10 broad educational areas.

The Adult Evening school, with classes at Jefferson, Westmoor, Terra Nova and Oceana High schools and other community locations serves residents of Daly City, Pacifica, Bayshore and Brisbane, who live in the Jefferson High school district.

Louis J. Martin, principal, has guided the program for the past five years.

Last year, more than 7000 persons enrolled in classes. Within the overall schedule are six main line programs.

An Americanization program is designed for persons who wish to obtain their citizenship papers or who wish to speak and read English better.

Also, within the schedule is a comprehensive program designed for those persons who are working toward a high school diploma. Last year, more than 70 adults received their high school diplomas.

Two fulltime nursery schools, one in Pacifica and the other in Daly City, offer instruction for pre-school children.

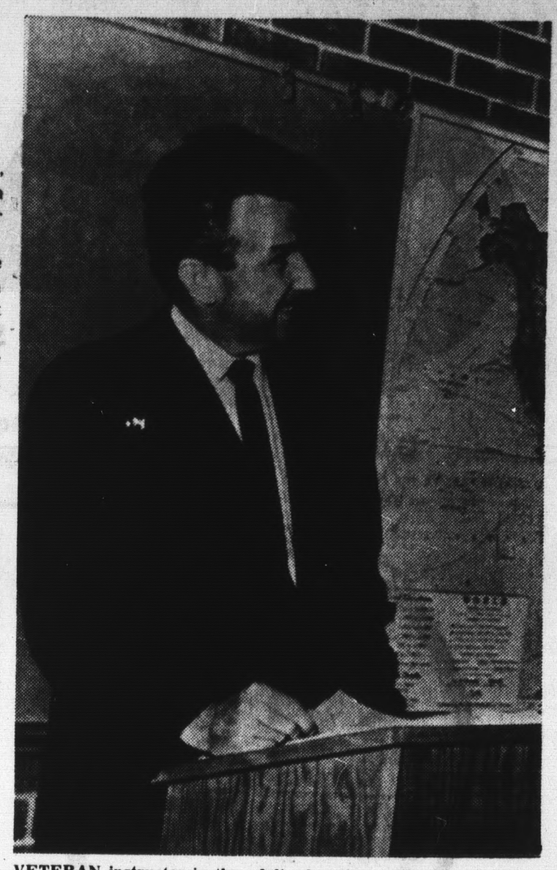
Upon recommendation from the day high schools, continuation students are permitted to work parttime and to attend classes during the evening to complete requirements toward their high school education.

A driver education and driver training program takes care of special needs in this area.

Four automobiles on loan from Cuyler Chevrolet and Neville Ford allow more than 200 men and women to learn to drive and thereby earn their driver's license. license.

Other classes designed to take care of special interest groups also are scheduled. They include pre-Christmas sales training, modern math concepts, airline operations (rates, tariffs), civil service preparation, real estate, automatic data processing and investments and securities.

More than 6500 brochures have been mailed to persons who had enrolled in thes pring semester. Others who wish a copy o the school brochure may call 5-1162.



VETERAN instructor in the adult education program is George Griffin, one of 90 teachers on the faculty. Registration for the school opens Tuesday and will be conducted through Friday, September 20.

Greek to Be Taught for First Time

The foreign language program of the adult evening school will offer Greek for the first time this year.

It will be taught by Garifaldi George at Westmoor Wednesday evenings. Here are the other language courses that will be offered:

ITALIAN: Two evening classes in conversational Italian will again be taught by Mrs. Evelina Montalban. A beginning class will be scheduled Mondays and an advanced class will meet Wednesdays at Westmoor Adult school.

FRENCH: Jefferson Adult school will offer a beginning class Thursdays and an intermediate class Monday evenings.

Credit for Diploma May Be Received

One of the main line programs offered by the adult evening school is one for adults who wish to earn credit toward a high school diploma.

Each year, more than 500 adults take classes for high school credit.

Las. year, more than 70 adults received their diplomas. Most classes on the schedule may be taken for credit leading to a diploma.

If adults have had previous high school training or satisfactory work experience, they may be given credit toward their diplomas.

Graduation from the adult evening school is based on the successful completion of not less than 150 units of work.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

HAPPIEST man in Westlake these balmy late summer days is Tom Clark.

Clark, a pianist, teacher and composer, has been attracting considerable attention with his creative efforts and this past weekend his "Piano Sonata" was one of three featured selections performed at the Old Spaghetti Factory restaurant in San Francisco.

The audience's response was enough to gratify any composer, but Clark's success didn't end with the enthusiasm of the audience. The reviews given his work by San Francisco music critics were glowing and should inspire him to continue to devote himself to the task of creating beauty.

MR. AND MRS. HARVEY MUMFORD and their children have returned from a vacation spent visiting members of their families in Minnesota.

The Mumfords, who drove across country, stopped in Denver to spend a day with the William Whalen family.

The Whalens, former Daly City residents, have been making their home in Colorado in recent months.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

THE FEDERATED Women's club of Pacifica held its annual dinner dance in the Holiday inn recently and about 16 couples were on hand to enjoy the occasion.

GOOD NEWS concerning Pacifica's Louis Vargas, the father of two who nearly lost his life in an accident last June.

According to a neighbor, Mrs. George Mason, Vargas is well on the road to complete recovery and will be back at his job this month.

Mrs. Beatrice Batz, president of the Westlake Senior Citizens club, and Mrs. Millie Machens have returned from a weekend trip to Modesto.

The ladies were the guests of Mrs. Batz's sister who guided them on a tour of the peach orchard and the packing plants where fruit was sorted and processed.

THE AMERICAN Association of University Women in Pacifica will begin the fall program of events with a gourmet dinner for members and their escorts this Saturday night.

The evening's festivities will begin with cocktails to be served at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Mildren Bachman of Pedro Point. The dinner, which will immediately follow the cocktail hour, will feature special dishes concocted by the members and selected from among their most highly prized recipes.

Next Wednesday, the group will begin holding regular monthly meetings again. New meeting locale will be the American Red Cross building on Palmetto avenue in the Sharp Park district.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Rose Resnick, who is with the California league for the Handicapped. Her topic will be "The Handicapped Child."

MRS. VINCENT MURPHY is still wearing stitches on her hand, the result of an attempt at do-it-yourself landscaping.

Mrs. Murphy and her long-time friend, Mrs. Thomas Bocci, Jr., attempted to do a little re-arranging of planters near Mrs. Bocci's swimming pool. One small misstep and 12 stitches were required. (It originally took four men to place the planter the two petite ladies attempted to move!)

THE PACIFICA Lioness club had its annual dinner trip to San Francisco recently.

Mrs. Florence Bedford, president of the group, and 15 members boarded a chartered bus in Pacifica for the trip to a restaurant in San Francisco and then on to a night club for a floor show before the return trip.

THE OPERATION UNDERSTANDING program was a success in so far as Mrs. Marion Ballew and Mrs. George Mason of Pacifica are concerned.

The two social leaders were among a large delegation of Northern California women invited by the army to view the inner workings of American defenses. After a whirlwind week, the two have returned to Pacifica eager to share their impressions and experiences with everyone. Currently, they are preparing a program they hope to give for the members of the Federated Women's club and they hope to be able to interest others in the program.

LAST WEDNESDAY, readers were asked if they knew the locations of three supposedly lost former presidents of the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers club.

The response has been overwhelming! Most overwhelmed were Mrs. Vera Ross, Mrs. Dorothy Carrington and Mrs. Othello G. Fair, the "lost" presidents who had no idea that they were "missing."

Actually, the women and their locations are known and the women themselves are actively preparing to take part in the Memory Lane Fashion Show being presented in October by the OLPH group. An omission on the former officers list gave them the "lost" status on paper, even though their whereabouts were well known to many in the club.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WE'VE ALL made upside-down cake. Recently, there appeared in this column a recipe for an upside-down apple pie and now here's another upside-the usual casserole; can be made ahead, placed in the oven and ignored, uses hamburger, plus the added flip (I guess that's a pun) of being served upside-down.

Mrs. Rose Walthard of 971 Southgate avenue, Daly City, has made this dish frequently and she says it's always a delight. When I made it, I liked the idea of doing all the mixin' and fixin' the day before.

HAMBURGER UPSIDE-DOWN CASSEROLE

- 2½ cups elbow macaroni (about ¾ cup uncooked)
- 3 tbsp. butter
- ½ cup minced onion
- 2 teas. minced garlic
- 1 lb. ground meat
- 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
- 1 teas. salt
- ¼ teas. pepper
- ¼ teas. oregano
- 1 8-oz. package cheddar cheese (grated or cubed small)
- 3 eggs (beaten)
- ¾ cups milk

The day before: cook macaroni in salted water until just tender and drain. Meanwhile, in the hot butter saute onion and garlic until tender, add the ground meat and brown. Stir in tomato sauce, salt, spread over botto mof two-quart casserole.

Now, toss the drained macaroni with cheese, pack down over meat-tomato mixture in casserole dish. Combine beaten eggs and milk. Pour over macaroni. Cover dish with foil and refrigerate until next day. About two hours before serving, heat oven to 350 degrees. Let casserole stand about 15 minutes, then bake it 1½ hours or until macaroni is golden and the custard is set.

When done, remove casserole from oven and let stand 1 minutes. Then loosen around edges with spatula and carefully unmold on serving platter.

This salad recipe traveled around quite a bit, for Rosie says that whenever she serves it, she has to gives the recipe. Now we'll really increase its mileage by letting us carry it around this area.

CHILI BEAN SALAD

- ¼ teas. chili powder
- ¼ cup oil
- 2 tbsp. vinegar
- 2 teas. sugar
- ¼ teas. salt
- 2 cans (about 1 lb. each) kidney beans, drained
- 1 large green pepper, diced
- 1 small Bermuda nion, diced
- 1 cup pitted ripe olives, halved
- 2 tbsp. catsup
- 1 tbsp. mayonnaise
- 1 large head lettuce

Heat chili powder in oil in a small saucepan about two minutes to develop the flavor. Remove from heat and stir in vinegar, sugar and salt; stir into drained beans in large bowl; let stand about 30 minutes.

Add green pepper, onion, olives, catsup and mayonnaise; toss just to blend. Place shredded lettuce in bottom of large salad bowl, fill bowl with bean mixture.

Westlake Baptist Holds Bible School Graduation

Commencement services were held Thursday evening at the Westlake Community Baptist church for the church's Vacation Bible school, which was directed by Mrs. George Marshall, Dr. H. Hansel Stembridge Jr., and Mrs. James Lederer, accompanist.

Guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. Bontha Rathnam Moses of South India who stressed the fact that it was difficult for men and women to become Christians in his part of the world because of the caste system.

As an illustration, he said: "If they joined in the Christian faith, they were not allowed to get water from the same well as other people and would have to travel miles to obtain it."

The Wee Tots presented a program for their parents and friends. The Wee Tots, taught by Mrs. William Zarubin and Mrs. Cecil DeLoach, held a large picture of various items for which they were thankful and gave a prayer of thanks.

The kndergarten group, taught by Mrs. George Easley and Mrs. Milton Gilmore, sang a song entitled: "We Thank Thee God."

The primary group, taught by Mrs. Gordon Kenne and Mrs. Edward Goldkuhl, held puppets that they had made, making believe they were children from various areas forming church groups.

The intermediate group, taught by Mrs. Jeff Weiner and Mrs. Donald Brown, were dressed in early American costumes and presented a reglious tableau.

The senior group, taught by Mrs. Jay McPherson and Mrs. Lynn Hodges, broadcast an interview stressing accomplishments at Bible school.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. George Marshall presented each child with a certificate.

Besides parents who furnished refreshments for daily attendance, others who gave many hours of teaching and help to the school were Mrs. Stembridge, Mrs. Frank Tiernan, Mrs. Don Mann, Mrs. Rita Janakes, Mrs. Milbert Opp, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Jewell Bernard, Mrs. Etta Luallen LeAnn McGowan, Larry Landess, Grant Easley, George Crawford, Sharon Kennedy and Steve Riley.

Membership Lunch Slated

The Sisterhood of Temple Judea will conduct its first event of the fall season Thursday, September 12—a membership luncheon at the Lake Merced Boathouse. Luncheon will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Nathan Sternsher, Sisterhood president, said all women of the community would be welcome to attend.

Church Sets Picnic For Orange Park

The Sunday school of Westside Baptist church will conduct its annual picnic, starting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, at Orange Park in South San Francisco.

Alton Swedberg, Sunday school superintendent, has urged all teachers and pupils to attend.

Sunday morning, a communion service will be held. The Rev. A. David Donnelly's sermon topic will be: "One Greater Than Jonah."

At the close of the service, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang will be welcomed into the church.

Reverend Donnelly will discuss: "The High Cost of Carelessness" at the 7 p.m. evening gospel hour.

At 7:45 tonight, the mid-week prayer and Bible study hour will meet at the parsonage at 232 Mansfield drive, South San Francisco.

Worker to be Commissioned

Sylvia Zabransky will be commissioned as the parish worker of Bethel Lutheran church at 2525 Alemany boulevard in the second service Sunday morning.

Miss Zabransky is a graduate of the Lutheran Lay Training institute of Concordia college in Milwaukee.

Her duties will be the conducting of after-school religious classes for children of pre-confirmation age; working with youths and assisting in the mission program of the congregation.

A reception and luncheon will be held in the Parish House after the service Sunday.

Annual Mass Is Scheduled

Six hundred employes of the Pacific Gas and Electric company and their families are expected to attend the company's fifth annual mass and communion breakfast for Catholic employes October 13.

The mass will be said at 9 a.m. in St. Patrick's church, San Francisco, and breakfast will be served later in the Sheraton-Palace hotel. Val King will be the speaker.

Two residents of Daly City, Thomas P. Ludcke and Lawrence R. McDonnell, are members of the arrangements committee.

Msgr. Vincent F. McCarthy will celebrate the mass.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 15 years old and my mother insists that I do chores around the house, like dishes and washing floors, etc. It would be all right for a girl, but a guy shouldn't be expected to do these things, don't you agree?

Slave

Dear Slave:

A little work never hurt anyone. It's an old saying but true.

I am 15 years old and my why shouldn't you do your share of the work. Do you feel your parents and the world owe you something for existing. After all, your parents have done for you and will do for you. I'm sure it won't hurt you to help them out a little. Don't be afraid of being a nice guy.

If you should do these things without being asked, you won't mind it half as much.

When you were an infant, I'm sure your parents cared for your every need and never once called it nor considered it a CHORE. You only get one set of parents. Treat them right.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I have talked to several parents about your column last week about high school dropouts. It was a fine article. We would like you to elaborate, for your teen-age readers, the future of high school drop-outs.

Since school commences soon, I know that there are a lot of teen-agers contemplating not returning to school. Please tell them the consequences. It has hit home in our house because my son is thinking on these lines.

A Worried Parent

Dear Parent:

Drop-outs on he high-school level are a very bad disease. It's cancerous and contagious. When a kids sees another leave school, it looks very simple and appealing.

As I said last week, employment is next to impossible without a high school diploma. But even worse than that is the future of the person. For example:

He doesn't succeed. He's rejected by employers. He's out of work frequently.

He has a poor family life. He possesses an outstanding lack of security. He's uneducated, therefore has no promotions. He finds it tough keeping out of debt. He's slower mentally.

This may seem like a black picture but that's only because it IS a black picture.

This is a very competitive world and if you can't compete, you are a loser and there's no place for you. Our country depends mainly on our future citizens.

But if those citizens are becoming uneducated adults, what is going to become of this great country of ours.

I am of the firm opinion that a high school diploma should be mandatory for the future of our country.

Without education, people become masses and not individuals. This in turn can lead to communism. It may sound far fetched but it isn't.

If you will read, you will notice that Communists prey on the uneducated masses, because they can be swayed.

Same with teen-age drop-outs, these youngsters are being swayed, aren't they? They are being swayed to leave school.

So that is why I say for the sake of the individual as well as our own country's future, get as much education as you possibly can and by all means finish high school.

I'll repeat what I said last week: It takes a brave and smart person to quit school, but it takes a braver and smarter one to stay and finish.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or topic you'd like discussed, you may write Joe Bavaresco in care of this newspaper.

Firemen said a pipe under a sink broke in the upstairs quarters of the building owned by Walter Panting. He was not at home at the time.

Occupants of a downstairs apartment, Barbara Stone, noticed water seeping through the ceiling and called firemen.

State Building Hits New Mark

California's construction boom rose to record levels in the first half of the year, with value of permits issued in the private sector totaling nearly $2.6 billion, State Finance Director Hale Champion announced.

The figure represents an increase of 22.3 per cent over the same January-June period of 1962, also a record-breaking year, Champion said.

Business And Finance

Billiards to Be Installed

Westlake Bowl, the largest bowling center in Northern California, will install 12 billiard tables, a sport shop and a 24-hour coffee shop.

Plans for the new facilities were announced by Johnny Swanson, Westlake Bowl owner.

The bowl opened with 32 lanes in November of 1958 and added 20 more in August of 1959.

In addition to the new facilities, new carpeting also will be installed throughout the bowl, Swanson said.

Valet Park Rate Upped

Better valet parking service at the San Francisco International airport is expected following last week's raise in the valet rate.

San Francisco Public Utilities commissioners voted 4-1 to raise the rate from $1.25 to $2.

The raise was given after commission president Stuart N. Greenberg voted against the increase, noting "we've had many complaints because your service is poor."

The company, Barrett Garages, complained it had been losing $16,000 to $19,000 a year on the operation, which allows airport patrons to turn over their cars to attendants at the terminal front office.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

WELL, NOW, it's been quite a summer, hasn't it. I mean, when you stop to think about it, the old North County really got wound up. The result was a pot pourri of news-making events.

Summertime—or so tradition goes—is supposed to be that time of year when nothing much of import goes on. It's also the time when newspaper editors take on a decidely stricken look as they start wondering how they're going to fill those pages.

Our job was made considerably easier this summer by a number of developments. It's almost as if the key figures behind these developments were aware of how slow news is generated through July and August and decided to jazz up the good, old summertime.

The premier talk-of-the-town topic these past weeks has been the big land acquisition derby going on among the communities of the North county.

Chief contestants in the derby have been Daly City, South San Francisco and Brisbane with Daly City given the lead as of this writing.

True, Brisbane successfully added a nice chunk of industrial land over there by the bay, which would seem to give Brisbane the edge.

But that move only spurred on Daly City, which since has added the Cow Palace, 4000 residents and $1.5-million in assessed valuation.

And once it got into the annexation derby, Daly City couldn't stop. Now the city seems to be well out in front in the race to add the old Christen dairy ranch.

Acquisition of this admittedly prize plum would almost double the city's land area. Moreover, it would give Daly City—in time—a mammoth regional shopping center, larger than Stonestown.

Once the Christen ranch annexation is decided, the land acquisition derby should enter the home stretch with the Crocker lands waiting there at the finish line.

Now just who is going to reach the line first is more problematical than the Christen annexation, although again, Daly City seems to have somewhat of a lead.

If both the Christen and Crocker lands eventually are wedded to Daly City, why the old North County is going to boast the biggest city in all of San Mateo county in area and in time, the biggest metropolis in population as well.

All of which from a strictly partisan viewpoint is the way it should be.

WHAT'S THE SCORE? — The answer should be readily seen this fall for all you followers of the Terra Nova football Tigers when you sit in on any of the Tiger home games.

The Jefferson Union High School district board of trustees last week finally solved a ticklish public relations dilemma when it somehow inveigled the Pacific Gas and Electric company to install—virtually free—power lines for a scoreboard at the Terra Nova football field.

Seems some two years back, the Pacific Lions club decided that a nice gesture toward the new (at that time) school would be to give the student body an electronic football scoreboard.

And so, the Pacifica club raised $1700 to buy one.

Members presented the scoreboard to a gratified school district and sat back to await its installation.

Well, they've been sitting for two years and at the same time doing a slow burn.

The reason? Trustees of the district were told at the time the scoreboard was donated that it would cost some $3000 to bring power into the field.

Since the district didn't have that kind of money budgeted for that kind of a project, the scoreboard was duly received and duly filed in storage.

Which didn't exactly delight the Lions club.

Last week, however, trustees were informed that negotiations had been completed with PG&E to install power facilities for the scoreboard at virtually no cost to the district.

Richard Coltrell, administrative assistant to the district superintendent, reported that the power company had agreed to donate the cost of the labor to install the power lines.

The cost of that labor, by the way, is estimated at $250. The original $3000 figure somehow has shrunk in the past two years. In addition to the labor, $20 in miscellaneous costs are involved in the scoreboard installation, which the district will pay.

And so, when the Tigers take to their new football field this fall, they'll be backed up by a bright, new scoreboard to record—their fans fervently hope—some hefty Terra Nova totals.

WHILE WE'RE on the Terra Nova scene, we have another Tiger development to report.

This one's a case of the mixed up bleachers. And it goes like this:

Once upon a time, the high school district ordered bleachers for the gymnasium at Terra Nova. They were purchased, delivered and installed. They looked fine and they served the purpose.

Then, Terra Nova became a bigger school—more students—and there weren't enough of those bleachers. So the district ordered more.

Again, they were purchased, delivered and installed. But, alas, they were of a different color than the first shipment. Actually, they were of a different shade of tan.

Since bleacherites might conceivably be sensitive about such things and since the color scheme of the gymnasium had been thrown out of whack, the school district decided this unexpected development wasn't good.

So, an investigation was ordered into why Terra Nova's bleachers had become two-tone.

The answer, trustees were told last week, is that the company that manufactures them had changed its color scheme since the first order.

WHOEVER still thinks the art of preparing a tasty dish should remain the private property of the fairer sex should've dropped in at the cookout contest they staged in the Westlake Shopping center Saturday.

One whiff of the delectable aroma wafting through the center's mall would have quickly dispelled THAT sort of old-fashioned thinking.

The contestants were all men—that's right, gals, your husbands and boy friends — and we'll authoritatively report this Wednesday morning that the barbecue dishes they cooked up were scrumptious.

Which led more than one male observer at the scene to smirk that it's still a man's world—even in the kitchen!

County Tax Is Reduced Once Again

The basic county tax rate has been reduced today by the county board of supervisors for the fifth year in a row.

The board established a $1.5715 rate for the 1963-64 fiscal year that started July 1. The 1962-63 rate was $1.6111.

Controller Ira A. Boynton pointed out that because of a change in the method of computing the rate for special schools, however, the actual decrease in the rate is 2.46 cents.

In 1958-59 the county rate was $1.88 per $100 of assessed property value. The rate has been reduced a little each year since then, a total of about 16 per cent in the five years.

County Manager E. R. Stallings said the situation is attributable to several things — the adoption of a countywide retail sales tax two years ago, the adoption of a countywide retail sales tax two years ago, the "utilization of every possible source of miscellaneous revenue," and "conservatism in spending."

Stallings said that, although the current budget of $39,012,824 shows a gain of more than $1,600,000 over the previous budget, the actual cost to local taxpayers is less than before.

The manager asserted that the usual 6 to 7 per cent increase in the assessment roll each year is just about offset by the increase in the county's population and the corresponding demand for additional services.

McCoy Named To Commission

John McCoy, of 540 Canyon drive, has been appointed to the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation commission by the city council, replacing Thomas Tromborg, who recently resigned for business reasons.

McCoy, an engineer for the city of San Francisco, is a long-time Pacifica resident. He was a district fire commissioner before the city's incorporation. He has remained active in civic affairs.

A Gift for the Mayor

Feyge Proclaims Fund Drive Week

The first Pacifica fund drive for Cystic Fibrosis moved into full swing when Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge proclaimed September 14-21 as Cystic Fibrosis Week in Pacifica.

Eight year-old Mary Jo Opatz, Bay Area Poster girl for the 1963 fund drive, presented Mayor Feyge with a bouquet of nosegays and an honorary membership in the National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Chairman of the Pacifica drive is Mrs. Sandra Narzisi of 534 Vista Mar drive.

Mrs. Narzisi announced that a "Tiny Tots' Carnival of Fashion," will be held at Vallemar school in Pacifica Saturday, September 14, at 1 p.m.

The show, an innovation in Pacifica, will feature tiny tots between the ages of 12 months and 5 years, modeling children's wear, from diapers and training pants to fancy dress gowns and suits.

Sandra Findley, Miss Pacifica of 1963, will narrate the show.

Tickets for the show will be available at Terroll's Boys and Girls shop in the Linda Mar Shopping center, sponsors of the show; the Plaza Furniture store in the Pacific Manor Shopping center or from Mrs. Kathy Moylet of 1684 Rosita road, 359-3548, and Mrs. Barbara Gilbride, 1133 Manzanita drive, 359-0917.

Mrs. Sherri Thomas, well-known Pacifica artist, has donated one of her paintings to be raffled off at the Fashion show.

Candy will be sold at Pacifica shopping centers by mothers and volunteers. Proceds will go to the National Cystic Fibrosis foundation.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Henry Boynton of San Francisco reported to Daly City police over the weekend that vandals had broken five windows in a vacant house he owns at 78 Menlo avenue.

Recreation Hits Record

A record total of 116,886 persons participated in the program of the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department during the year ended June 30—an increase of more than 16,000 over the previous record of a year ago.

The totals are contained in the department's annual report.

The report says that 1,501 meetings were held in these six categories: aquatics, clubs, creative arts, dance, playgrounds and sports.

Largest participation was reported in the playground program, which drew 40,776 persons.

The staff of the department includes nine full-time employes. Seasonal and part-time leaders and volunteers total between 40 and 70.

The Cookout Gets Underway

OUTDOOR BARBECUE—This was the scene in the mall of the Westlake Shopping center Saturday afternoon, midway through the center's first annual cookout championship. The contest for men only drew a hungry-looking throng of spectators who watched the chefs at work and listened to their hints on favorite recipes. The cookout contest was held after a cooking school, conducted earlier in the mall. (Post-Times photo)

The Judges at Work

THE JUDGES—The welcome task of judging the savory dishes prepared in the outdoor cookout fell to these three acknowledged experts in the field of cuisine. From left are Margaret C. Bowers, also known as Martha Lee, food editor of The Oakland Tribune; Nell Norton, food editor of The Post Times and author of the weekly column, Sugar 'n Spice and Hugh Craig, one of the finalists in the 1960 national Kaiser Cookout championship. COOKOUT CONTEST

'Bert's Burgers' Win Top Award

A sumptuous barbecued dish, entitled "Bert's Barbecued Burgers," won first place Saturday in the first annual cookout championship or men only, cosponsored by Westlake Shopping center merchants and Kaiser Aluminum Foil.

The winning dish was artfully prepared by James Aspatore of San Francisco while an ehtusiastic crowd of hungry shoppers looked on.

His recipe called for ground lamb and a barbecue sauce that included such items as baking powder, cloves and an egg.

By winning, Aspatore received a Big Boy Barbecue unit and $50 in cash. His recipe will be entered in national cookout competition.

Aspatore was sponsored by Bloom's Fine Shoes. Bert Feltinton, president of the Westchants association, announced the awards.

Feltinton also is manager of Bloom's and grinned broadly when judges told him his entry had won first prize.

Second place was taken by James N. Knight, sponsored by First Western Bank. He won a Big Boy unit and $25 with barbecued lamb shanks.

George Miller won the third prize of $15 with a dish he called "Cantonese spareribs" He was sponsored by Bob St. Clair's Liquors.

Bill Jones won fourth place with a dish he called "Eastern Delight." He was sponsored by the Bank of America.

The difficult task of judging the entries was adroitly accomplished by three cooking experts:

Nell Norton, Post-Times food editor and author of her column, Sugar 'n Spice; Margaret C. Bowers, also known as Martha Lee, food editor of the Oakland Tribune, and Hugh Craig, one of the finalists in the 1960 national Kaiser Cookout championship.

The Champion Chefs Are Named

THE WINNERS—Bert Feltinton, president of the Westlake Shopping center's Merchants association, congratulates the first place winner in Saturday's cookout championship. He's James Aspatore of San Francisco who won the judge's culinary hearts with a recipe called: "Bert's Barbecued Burgers." Other winners looking on are, from left, George Miller, third; James N. Knight, second, and Bill Jones, third. Two top winners won Big Boy Barbecue units. (Post-Times Photo)

Here's Recipe For Top Entry

Here's the first place recipe in Saturday's cookout championship:

BERT'S BARBECUED BURGERS

1 lbs. ground lamb
1 medium (minced) onion
½ cup milk
1 egg (beaten)
1 tsp. baking powder
3 sprigs parsley or mint
½ cup bread crumbs
1 tsp. salt or more
1 pinch cloves
Pepper to taste

Mix lamb and milk well; add egg, baking powder, onion, seasoning and parsley. Add bread crumbs and knead well. Meat should have consistency to roll around skewer for broiling. It should be rolled around skewer to resemble a tube, a quarter to half inch thick.

Broil over charcoal fire or in oven two to four minutes on each side, turning often to keep from overcooking. Serves 4 to 6.

Barney's Continuing Free Dollar Coupon Plan

"Big Hearted" Barney O'Malia" is what they call the Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada, Barney's Casino owner — and so he is. During the past year, Barney has featured a coupon in his advertisement which is good for one dollar in cash when presented at the Casino's cashier window. This is not a gimmick—do with the money as you will. Many thousands of people have taken advantage of Barney's generosity. This "free dollar" policy will continue through the Winter months. So no matter how you arrive in the Lake Tahoe area—by bus, plane or private transportation, present one of Barney's free dollar coupons at the Casino and you're a winner before you get started.

Barney O'Malia

Barney's Casino is open 24 hours a day—with free coffee served at all hours in the new "O'Houlihan Hideout" Room. There are two restaurants, two coffee shops, and two bars, plus everything else that makes Nevada a fun attraction. Plenty of free parking.

The name Arthur Ellen is one to remember. This gent is one of the greatest exponents of hypnotism of all time. His appeal is evident by the fact that, through the years, he has hypnotized over 40,000 men and women, who have volunteered as prospective subjects. This takes in coast to coast nitery appearances, not to mention television, theaters, universities, and news reels—whenever a stage has been made available. Arthur Ellen's demonstrations unflinchingly aim at revealing the subconscious behavior pattern of his entire audiences through the hypnotic antics of his hypnotized subjects. You will have a chance to see for yourselves just what Mr. Ellen is capable of performing by visiting Frenchy's Theater-Restaurant tonight as he embarks upon a limited engagement at this smart Hayward supper club. Be sure to clip out the coupon appearing in the advertisement—it's good for the cover charge (not valid on Saturdays) . . . The Silver Spoon "dishes" up a wide variety of breakfasts and caters to early commuters. You're livin' when ordering scrambled eggs here.

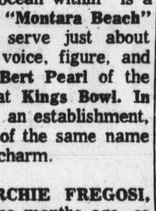
TONY LICATA, handsome son of Vince Licata, owner-operator of Vince's Restaurant, one of the finest seafood eateries in the Bay Area and Peninsula, has reached the positon of executive chef. Tony comes by his culinary knack naturally — his pappy's restaurant experience goes back to the days when they used to sell crabs in a basket and "Moby Dick" was the whale of the day . . Al Henry, new manager of Club Shor-Vu, invites you to try their new luncheon and dinner menu. Dancing to the entertaining Noveliers from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Cocktails from 8 a.m. . . . Karl and Helen Resch of the Almaden Cafe del Rio report one of the largest restaurant years in their business history. Which is understandable —excellent menu personally prepared by Karl Resh . . . "Seafood from the ocean within" is a favorite expression of Frank "Montara Beach" Torres. Which means, in eatin' words, they serve just about everything that swims . . . A young lady with voice, figure, and poise could get a steady job if she contacts Bert Pearl of the Continentals in the Blue Peacock restaurant at Kings Bowl. In fact, tell him I sent you. . . . If ever a name fit an establishment, "Charm Garden" suits the Belmont restaurant of the same name to a charm. Even the menu and beverages have charm.

Tony Licata

ROCCA'S RESTAURANT CO-OWNER, ARCHIE FREGOSI, was having trouble with his TV set, about three months ago, so he bought a "Repair Your TV Yourself" booklet and fixed it. Last week the TV went out again. Archie couldn't find his "Do It Yourself" booklet, so he bought a new set. Where do you think he later found the booklet? Inside the old TV. . .Ephraim Dinnwiddie, a theater operator of Sydney, Australia, paid his first visit to Finocchio's this week, and added his reaction thus: "I thought I had seen just about every kind of show in existence until I got pop-eyed watching this one. It's not just entertaining; it's amazing. And I'm told it's what you call 'old hat' here, but it was all brand-new bowler to me.". . .Jimmie Dell and The Goofers, one of the wildest musical and comedy outfits seen in the Bay Area in years, close Monday at the clicking new Galaxie on San Francisco's Broadway. Opening next eve is the sensational Jack "Jive" Schaeffer and his musical-comedy crew. . .Mrs. Eleanor Brown of Burlingame, president of "Women in Construction," presided over a dinner meeting of her group at Phil Lehr's Steakery in San Francisco. Plans for Fall activities of the group were discussed.



Archie Fregosi

Geary Leason, Peninsula "pizza prince" of Big Al's Gashouse, has a musical winner in Dean Batchelor, the latest addition to his Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday fun parade. Big Al's is quite a club! You'll find your eyes and attention shifting all around the room—from oil paintings to the employees' costumes. There's something doing every minute. Pizzas and beers of all nations appear on the tables as if by magic . . . Sidney Staton, former vocalist with Lionel Hampton, and who has also been seen locally on the Del Courtney, Jimmy Lyons, and Ben Alexander TV Shows, is now appearing Monday and Tuesday nights at The Clozet. With Staton are two of the Bay Area's best—bassist John Green of the Earl 'Fatha' Hines Band, and pianist Al Tanner . . . For those who have planned a night at one of the Geary Street theaters and are concerned about having enough time to dine before curtain time: Stop in George Mardikian's Omar Khayyam's restaurant, which is just a short walk from the theater center, and Maitre d' Harold Lloyd will see that you are comfortably seated, served and on your way in plenty of time.

TOMMY YEE, a long-time chef favorite of Yours Truly, is now fronting the Sky Deck broiler. 'Tis no wonder Owner Carmel Sands is receiving so many compliments on the delicious food. Tom is tops in the "restaurant league." . . . New England dinners have always been one of your Bright Lighter's most requested table treats—and you're in for a good one at Bill Mallory's Schlegel's restaurant. It's New England all the way . . . One of the biggest restaurant mysteries is how Keith Williamson of Chicken House fame keeps his trim "Gary Cooper" figure with all that appetizing food and pastries at his finger tips . . . Taste tip of the week: Disjointed squab at the Lanai. How the chef prepares it is a kitchen secret, but is it ever delish! . . . Have missed seeing my pal Nick Gust over Pacifica way. This Sunday, come high water, I'll find him—unless, of course, he and Lorraine are off to Nevada to golf, boat, and maybe take in a show, or two . . . Full course Italian dinners served old-country style make the North Beach New Tivoli a mighty pop spot any evening.

AILEEN WARREN and her hubby, Lee, are off for a combined business and vacation trip to Europe sponsored by an import liquor company. 80 other lucky persons from California are joining the party. Hummmm. They departed Aug. 30, will be gone 33 days, back on Oct. 3. Being Giants fans to the end, I wonder if this means their Giants (and mine) will finish third? Hope not. Don Gardner and chef Len Kaul will tend to the "store" during the Warrens' Piccadilly absence . . . Last call for dinner at the Pioneer Hotel under the Bodee Cominoli banner, that is. Bodee completes her long stand here Sept. 15th Go on down and bid her "Bon Voyage."

Caravan Inn Show Big Hit

Betty Sedam, general manager of the Mountain View Caravan Inn, hit the jackpot with her current entertainment booking featuring the smooth vocals and music of the Macdonalds, and European song stylist, Evana, the 4-foot, 10 bundle of excitement. Breakfast, lunch and dinner; up-to-the-minute room accommodations are also an "Inn" highlight.

Enrico Romano, "Italian food baron" of Pacifica, hosted a dinner party at Luz Garcia's colorful Sinaloa which included a nine course Mexican feast specially prepared by Miss Garcia.

Something new is coming to the South San Francisco Holiday Inn. I can see the "smoke signals," but can't quite make them out. However, Messrs. Fred and Gerry Rapp have promised to let me in on the secret next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kludt of San Mateo hosted a dinner party for friends at Lew Lehr's in the Marina.

Guido Bianchina and Joe Selmi, the "Lum and Abner" of the J and G. Restaurant, are having a ball, these days. Seems Guido's son, Rick (he received a scholarship to Stanford), is kitchen "quarter back" and calls the "signals" for meat ball orders.

Ed Sullivan's Business Report

Ed Sullivan, general manager of the swank Hyatt House Hotel in Burlingame informed this corner that these past few months have been terrific in all fields. Countless conventions and the tourist trade have kept not only the spacious room accommodations filled to capacity, but a summer business boom has been felt in the downstairs restaurant and Johnny Kan's Cantonese cuisine restaurant on the upper level.

BETTER AS PERENNIAL

Hollyhocks Early American Flower

A stalk of bright, pink-flowered Hollyhock, (Althaea rosea), is The Post Plant of the Week, grown by he R. J. Reynas, 220 Clarendon road, Burlingame, this plant of hollyhock is 15 feet high, some six feet above the normal height average for these plants.

HOME & GARDEN

Hollyhock plants are perennials but here on the Peninsula they give better results when they are treated as biennials and planted every two years. Young plants are available, as transplants, at most nurseries but they are so easily raise from seed sown anytime uring July or Augsut that it is more fun to grow your own. The next couple of weeks will still allow time enough for seeling plants to get arge enough to go through our winters.

Pant historians tell us the hollyhock had been in cultivation for perhaps a thousand years before it was introduced into England in 1573. It is also one of the early American garden flowers as there are records of its culture in Colonial gardens. Raymond L. Taylor, in his book "Plants of Colonial Days," states that a Boston newspaper advertised them for sale in 1760. Also, records show that "John Curtis of Williamsburg thanked Peter Collinson in 1735 for his hollycock seeds, a few of which "came up," and both Jefferson and Lady Skipwith grew them.

The hollyhock gets its botannical name of Althaea from the Greek name for marshamallow and rosea means rose-colored, but the large flowers that open up along the tall stems have been red, white, rose colored, and even pale yellow, according to our earliest recors. Today's gardeners have a much wider choice, thanks to the hybridizers. Salmon and several unusual shades of scarlet are now available. They may also choose between single an double flowered varieties. Even newer are named varieties, "Triumph Supreme" which has double fringed flowers; "Newport Pink," a delightful double, pure pink that won a Royal Horticultural society, (England) award; Clause's all double "Chater's" mixed, the handiwork of a careful French breeder who has worked to improve this strain for years. Flowers of this latter strain are thickly set along the stems an measure five to six inches in diameter. These newer strains average six to seven feet in height making them more usable in the average garden.

Nearly any ordinary garden soil will suit hollyhocks. Seed can be sown where they are to grow but as they need to be treated as biennials here, it is better to start them in a seed pan or in a small specially prepared spot in the garden. The young plants need to be pricked out or thinned like any other seedling. If grown in the open, mulch the bed well to protect them against frosty weather such as we experienced last year. Early in the spring move the plants to their blooming position in the background of a border, against a fence or alongside a gate.

Rust and leafspot are the only problems affecting hollyhocks and rust is by far the most damaging. The newer varieties are much less susceptible to rust fungus but we have found that it pays to spray with a rust inhibiting fungicide. We used the same material we use for rust on roses and do the hollyhocks along with them.

When hollyhocks finish blooming they shoul be cut to within six inches of the soil, if you wish to try your luck with the same plants a second year. If you have fresh seedling plants coming along, pull the plants out by the roots and refreshen the soil.

Two things to keep in mind when growing hollyhocks are; 1 They resent, more than most plants, having their roots exposed and 2—they are so tall they must have good root anchorage to keep them upright. Both of these problems can be overcome by setting the young plants a little more deeply in the soil than they were in the flats or growing area.

Plant of the Week

PLANT OF THE WEEK is a 15-foot stalk of the pink-flowered Hollyhock (Althaea Rosea) grown by the R. J. Reynas, 220 Clarendon road, Burlingame. Alreacy old when this ocuntry was new, the Hollyhock has always been a fayroite in American gardens.

Ikebana Show Due On Sunday

Members of the Ikebana (Flower Arrangement) group of the San Mateo Buddhist church invite the public to a showing of the work, Sunday, September 8, at the church, 2 South Claremont street, San Mateo, Hours are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tea will be served. The show and the tea are free.

Assisting the San Mateo arrangers will be guest exhibitors from the Ikebana group of the Palo Alto Buddhist church. Both of these floral groups were students of the late Woorin Baba, a master teacher of the Ikenobo School of Ikebana. The Ikenobo School is the oldest as well as the largest school of flower arrangement in the world.

This year's show will feature the modern new trends in Japanese floral art. All of the exhibitors have been studying the modern moribana under Mrs. Sumiye Mikami, a graduate teacher of the Ikenobo school. Modern Japanese ceramics are used as containers for this type of arrangement.

Members of the San Mateo Group have also studied San-shuike, "Triple Shoka", a form of the traditional style in which the arranger uses three types of plant material. These arrangement have the three basic lines of the shoka plus a fourth perpendicular line in the direct center of the arrangement. This fourth line is called "do" or trunk and it is half the length of the tallest or "shin" line. The triple shoka being both formal and modern may be arranged in either a bronze or ceramic container.

Both members and guest exhibitors will don their prettiest kimonos to serve guests the traditional Japanese tea and cakes throughout the day.

Chairman Named

CAMPAIGN CONFERENCE — Senator Clair Engle (left) discusses a forthcoming "Dollars for Democrats" drive in San Mateo county with Mrs. Nancy Shands of San Carlos, newly appointed county chairman and county General Committee Chairman Adloph C. Bud Harrison. The annual drive to raise funds for the Democratic Party will be held October 16 through 23.

Castelan Appoints Committee

Julius F. Castelan, state president of the Mexican-American Political association, has appointed a five-man committee to study agricultural labor laws and their effect on minorities.

Castelan, a Daly City civil engineer, said the committee will be responsible for an intensive education program on state and federal farm policies and problems of farm laborers. The program will be carried on through MAPA chapters.

"At this time, we are particularly concerned with the crisis in congress of Public Law 78," he said. "It's high time that the bracero system be closely examined for its adverse effects on domestic workers."

Approximately 200,000 Mexican-Americans will be affected by the law, Castelan said. The braceros (workers who are given special immigrant visas for a short period of time) work for much less than the minimum wage paid to American workers.

"Several minority families who follow the crops are deprived of jobs because of the braceros," Castelan said.

Drama and Band To Be Continued

The sound of school bells has signalled the end of the 10-week summer program of the Daly City recreation department.

Several aspects of the program, however, will be carried into the fall, according to department head Charles Vincent.

The successful teen drama class, under the direction of Nedra Merrick, will be continued on a once-a-week basis.

The class presented "The King's Creampuffs," a children's play, before an audience of approximately 500 children last month.

Another class by Miss Merrick in creative dance also will be continued, Vincent said.

The Daly City youth and dance bands, co-sponsored by the Westlake Music Center, is also scheduled for an extension.

The youth band meets every Tuesday at the Westmoor High school band room at 7 p.m. The dance band follows at 8 p.m. They are both under the direction of Westmoor High school teacher Howard Loeffler.

The teen drama class and bands were initiated by Vincent on an experimental basis during the summer program.

Thieves Take 3200 Nickels

Thieves stole $160 in nickels from Daly City Billiards at 6380 Mission street Friday night, police reported.

Police said the thieves had crawled into the billiard parlor through an unlocked restroom window. The nickles were taken from a desk drawer cash register and a coin changer.

Cage Officials Meeting Slated

The Peninsula Basketball Officials association will hold a meeting tonight in Room A of the San Carlos Recreation center Scout house at 8.

It will be open to all persons interested in basketball officiating and coaches. Ernie Filberti, Big Six official, will be the guest of the evening.

IN WASHINGTON

Writer Visits National Garden

By IVA NEWMAN

When we planned our Garden tour of Europe and Scandinavia, we included a stop on the East Coast of the United States to see some of the famous places we had read about. Among these were the National Botanic garden and Beltsville, the huge national testing grounds for all kinds of plants and new materials as well as ways for growing them.

Our host for this trip was Frederic Heutte, director of the Norfolk Botannic garden and a repeated visitor to this scientific institution. This was a huge place of many acres as well as buildings and without a guide, a map and a car it would be difficult to find your way about. Our Beltsville host for the afternoon was Dr. Mark Cathey, a dedicated young scientist delving into plant behavior with various light treatments.

Dr. Cathey explained, as he greeted us, that the time was approaching when he had to do som work with plants in a special laboratory. Noticing the notebook and pencil in my hand, he said we could go with him and observe the work provided I did not take notes nor write about the experiment. However, he did not ask me not to mention another experiment he was conducting that involved Rhododendron Caiotaubiensis roseum. Here, he was studying the sensitivity of vita chrome (blue protein) to light. Although this experiment was far from finished, Dr. Cathey had succeeded in flowering these rhododendrons in nine months from cuttings. We took a color slide of an average plant, in the experiment, with three huge trusses in full bloom while the control plants not only had no blooms but were still just one stem.

National Arboretum

Our next stop was at the National Arboretum to see the famous collection of dwarf conifers, a gift of W. Gotelli, of New Jersey. This is the largest and most complete collection of dwarf conifers in the world. This is a recent acquisition so we found many of the plants huddled together under lath just as they would be in a nursery. Some had been transplanted and we drove out to this site so as to get a look at individual specimens. The Arboretum labels had not been put up so we poked in among the branches in an effort to verify our identification. There were no tags but there was serious infestations of scale that endangered the life of the trees.

Time did not permit us to tour the new office building nearing completion as we had to hurry to keep our appointment with Dr. Henry Skinner, the director of the National Arboretum. Dr. Skinner's office was in a dilapidated shack that made us realize how much the new building was needed. Once inside it wasn't bad, a nice rug and furniture made his room very presentable. It was Dr. Skinner's wish that I could see the gardens at Dumbarton Oaks, which are closed during July and August that gave us our greatest treat in Washington.

Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Henry, (Tom Henry is a science writer for the Smithsonian Institution and a member of the famous Cosmos club) we did get to see Dumbarton Oaks in July. They arranged for L. O. Amrine, on vacation from his duties at the estate to take us through.

Dumbarton Oaks

Dumbarton Oaks was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods Bliss until 1940 when they presented it, as a gift, to Harvard university. The house was full of art objects acquired by the Blisses over a period of years. Since that time many more acquisitions have been added. Most of the art objects are from the Byzantine period, which began in the fourth century.

Self-Help Signups Postponed

The registration date for the medical self-help training program in San Mateo county has been postponed from September 19 to October 3.

The medical self-help program, sponsored by the civil defense organization, is designed to train one member of each family in modern first-aid methods, including emergency obstetrics, in case of a major disaster where trained medical assistance may be lacking.

According to Mrs. Helen Lengfeld, administrator of the program through the United Voluntary Services (under agreement with the San Mateo county board of supervisors), "the earlier date is too close after the opening of school for all the arrangements to be made properly."

Eighteen more volunteers have now brought the total instructors under training to 413, she said. The goal is 600. Volunteer instructor sare still badly needed in the Nort county.

Toastmasters to Begin New Class

The Daly City Toastmasters club will institute a speechcraft training course from September 19 to November 7, according to David Sumbardo, educational vice president of the club.

The eight-week course is designed to provide a condensed outline of the fundamentals of public speaking, Sumbardo said.

The classes will be held every Thursday morning at the Westlake library from 7 to 8 a.m. Members of the Toastmasters club will act as instructors.

A shortened Toastmasters meeting will be held after the speechcraft program.

The course is open to nonmembers at a cost of $5. This will take care of initiation fees if the participant wishes to join the club, Sumbardo said.

Some of the subjects to be covered include: an introduction to public speaking, what to talk about, confidence is power, building a speech, evaluation or constructive criticism, delivering a speech and chairmanship.

Instructors will include Sumbardo, Marshall Bloss, William Chapman, Merlin Porter, Robert Evans, Robert Hatton, Edward Harley, Sal Rodriguez, John Casey, John Murray, Jay Begun, Charles Barber, Edward Dominion, and Donald Stepp.

Further information may be obtained by calling the club president, Merlin Porter, at SU 1-2320 or OV 1-2320 or by writing the Daly City Toastmasters club, Westlake library, Daly City.

District Is Rebuffed by 'Hired' Man

An East Bay sanitation engineer used the North San Mateo county Sanitation district to get himself a huge raise last month and the district is still searching for a full-time engineer and plant administrator.

After extensive testing and interviewing, the district officials agreed to hire the engineer at $13,500, chairman of the board Francis Pacelli said.

The engineer agreed to the terms and then went to his own employers to inform them of the move.

When they matched the North County's salary, the engineer accepted it.

"I think the move was highly unethical," Pacelli said. "After going through all the steps of applying for the job and then agreeing to our salary, he accepted the job. I think he should have stuck by his decision."

The district employs an engineer on a part-time basis. The new man will have complete charge of the district and its facilities.

Pacelli said the board plans to contact other applicants for the position.

Altar Society Plans Meeting

The Altar society of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica will conduct its first meeting of the fall season Tuesday evening in St. Rita's hall.

Connie Suez, society president, will preside. New officers will be introduced and program plans discussed.

Road Study Is Requested

The State Highway commission has received a submission on a route plan for the $4 million Hunters Point freeway between San Francisco and Brisbane.

The recommended route would branch off the Bayshore freeway in Brisbane, swing around the bay side of Candlestick Park and proceed along the south and west slopes of Hunters Point hill to a connection with the Southern freeway at a point near Evans avenue and Selby street.

This route has drawn considerable opposition, and the highway commission has requested San Francisco supervisors and the Brisbane city council to indicate whether a public hearing is desired.
